“Resilient” does not go far enough!

The past 20 months have been almost unprecedented in the challenges they have posed for the SPAN Parent Advocacy Network and the children, youth, young adults, families, professionals, and family organizations we serve. The pandemic and resultant economic stress placed on our organization, our staff, and our communities have required unparalleled commitment and dedication on the part of our staff and parent volunteers. And we have risen to the occasion!

In future years, we will look back on this time and ask, “How did we do it? How did we not only survive, but thrive?”

The fact is, dedicated people with deeply entrenched social justice values got things done at SPAN that not only benefited our family and professional constituents, but also our communities. In the midst of COVID shut-downs, we managed to expand the number of constituents we reached by optimizing the use of digital interactions; we directly impacted legislation that will support thousands of lives; we built our social advocacy skills and voice as our society dealt with racial violence against Black Americans and Asian community members; we managed staff turnover and the departure of Debra Jennings from her long-time Executive Co-Director role; and we dealt with grief and loss - not just from COVID - but also from other illnesses that took the lives of family members and one foundational leader, the irreplaceable Albert Pelham.

We are proud to have served as Board President and Vice-President of SPAN throughout this difficult time. We are both moved by how our organization has responded to the times we have been living through and excited by the increased capacity we have built to serve our constituencies and communities and deliver on our mission into the future. You will see over the ensuing pages a story of success across our complementary family, family organization, and professional serving programs. The thread that weaves these programs together is our commitment to social justice and to access and equity for those with the greatest need.

But we need your help as we move forward - your shared energy and your donations. Non-profit grant funding is never a sure thing and we rely on the generosity of our supporters to help with those operational expenses that our grant funding may not cover. We know that with this impressive Annual Report you will see just how good an investment your donations will be.

We would finally like to offer our personal thanks for the hard work put in by all of the parent-professionals at SPAN, our partners, and to those who support us.

“Empowered Parents: Educated. Engaged. Effective!”

These words are the heart of SPAN’s work. Our vision is a society in which every family has everything they need to ensure that their children become fully participating and contributing members of our communities. Our mission is to empower and support families and involve professionals to partner to enhance the healthy development and education of children and youth. And our foremost commitment is to children and families who face the greatest challenges – disability and special health/mental health needs; poverty; discrimination based on race/ethnicity, language, immigrant status, gender, gender identification, or LGBTQ+ status; involvement in the child welfare or juvenile justice systems; homelessness; geographic location; or other special circumstances – that limit their equitable access to a seat at the table, high quality services, and positive outcomes.

Over the past nearly two years, we have persevered through the most difficult challenges in our 34-year history. But our values and belief in the power of the parent voice at all levels, our staff, parent leaders, volunteers, partners, and our funders have sustained us. Our commitment to social justice has only strengthened. And our optimism and hope for a brighter future is greater than ever.

In this annual report, you will see the fruit of our hard work. You will hear stories from families, professionals, and family organizations. You will read about the numbers of individuals and family organizations served, and the quality, relevance, usefulness, and impact of our services. You will learn about how we have leveraged what we have learned on the ground from families and used it to advocate for improved policies at the federal, state, and local level. You will see our vision, mission, foremost commitment, and values in action.

If what you read inspires and moves you, please help us continue our work. Your financial contribution – of whatever size – will ensure that we continue to create and support empowered parents who are educated, engaged, and effective!

With love and appreciation,

Diana Autin
Executive Director
SPAN Parent Advocacy Network
DE&I, Social Justice and Taking a Stand

SPAN has always been a diverse organization, majority staffed by parents of children with disabilities and representative of the families we serve. In 2020, our organization formed a volunteer Diversity, Equity & Inclusion committee to formalize and institute practices that will enable SPAN to make the most of its staff and parent leader diversity by supporting a sustainable culture and an equity-focused work environment. These practices will demonstrate a clear commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and social justice to both staff and the parent leaders with whom we work, as well as to the parents, caregivers, youth, young adults and professionals we serve. This commitment is consistent with SPAN’s mission to empower and support families with the greatest need and its vision of an economically productive, equitable and just society.

SPAN’s DE&I Plan includes three goals:

Goal 1:
Create a culture of inclusion by ensuring mutual respect and authentic appreciation for diverse backgrounds, beliefs, and identities; and by providing opportunities for safe sharing of varied viewpoints.

Goal 2:
Provide staff training on key concepts related to diversity, equity, and inclusion; effective anti-racism practices; the benefits of a diverse and inclusive workplace; and the importance of SPAN’s equity and anti-racism work across systems.

Goal 3:
Promote active, actionable allyship as a core value of SPAN.

In order to fulfill our commitment to children and families with the greatest need, we address our work with a social justice lens. This focus has made it necessary for SPAN to take a stand several times over the last year and release public statements under Diana Autin’s authorship. These have included a Statement on the Derek Chauvin Verdict, a Statement in Support of the Asian American Pacific Islander Community, and a Statement on the January 6th U.S. Capitol Insurrection.

2019-2020 Fiscal Year
By the Numbers

SPAN is primarily funded via state and federal government grants. This has been the case for many years and while it is a testament to our ability to deliver successful program outcomes year after year, such money may be restricted and can limit our ability to be as flexible as we need to be in order to meet the quickly changing needs of our families and professional partners. A higher percentage of donations from individuals and organizations will allow us to broaden our services and more quickly pivot to meet the evolving needs of the communities we impact.

The Perez Family

“We are Michelle and Jose Perez, proud parents of two sons with ASD (Autism Spectrum Disorder). We moved to N.J. four years ago from N.Y. to Mercer County. Learning to navigate new laws was overwhelming while parenting children with different needs.

Standing alone when we came to New Jersey was a big change, although we knew this move was best for us all. Our sons have daily challenges as well as beautiful strengths. Wanting them to thrive was always our goal.

We contacted SPAN to enrich our education in order to advocate for our sons. SPAN was embracing and very well rounded with knowledge. One of our sons was declassified as the school district decided to remove his IEP (Individualized Education Program) and we were blindsided in believing that this was best for him. We contacted SPAN desperately to help us prepare for this uncertain journey ahead. Our son was not ready to take that step. As parents without much information, we felt sad and out of our element.

SPAN was lifesaving with their professionalism and empathy. They offered immediate technical assistance and set us up with the tools needed as we moved forward to get our son’s IEP back in place. The SRP and SEVA programs were amazing in supporting our case and we successfully regained our son’s IEP.

We became educated and confident to advocate on our children’s behalf. The amount of information provided by SPAN is priceless. We not only gained our son’s IEP back, but also respect from the school.

SPAN is the best guidance to have when facing uncertain circumstances with our children’s academic future. They have been amazing and are always here to give us the most updated information and tools. SPAN continues to grow while keeping families and their children’s best interests at heart. Empowering our communities is a beautiful gift and SPAN gives us this gift with purpose as they encourage us to see our children’s bright future ahead.”

Michelle and Jose Perez, Mercer County, NJ

2021 Annual RAISE Summit

RAISE Center was created by SPAN to provide support to individuals with disabilities through the transition from secondary school and into competitive employment and independent living, as well as technical assistance and support to eight RSA (Rehabilitation Service Administration) funded parent training and information centers.

In June 2021, more than 330 people attended the RAISE Summit, which focused on professional development, networking, and sharing information in order to help improve positive outcomes for young adults with disabilities in the age of COVID.

The Center also presented six webinars in the 2020-2021 period, educating 600 participants on topics like Youth Development, Youth Empowerment and Accessibility.
SPAN houses the Center for Parent Information and Resources (CPIR) that serves as a central “hub” of information and products created for the network of almost 100 Parent Centers across the U.S. and U.S. territories and jurisdictions serving families of children with disabilities or at risk of inappropriate identification.

In September and October 2020, CPIR, in collaboration with the four regional parent technical assistance centers, hosted a National Parent Center Conference for 750 attendees. Information and resources on a variety of topics was shared, including equity, early learning, youth empowerment, education and healthcare advocacy, and non-profit management.

“I feel like SPAN has been right by our side every step of the way.”

Ann R. Smith, JD, MBA, Executive Director

AFCAMP Advocacy for Children

“I came to African Caribbean American Parents of Children with Disabilities, Inc (AFCAMP) early in its infancy by serving on its board of directors. And then in 2012, I stepped into an interim executive director role, and it was anticipated that would last for up to six months while our founding E.D. went on a medical leave. That was March of 2012 and in April, she unexpectedly passed away. I’m still here. AFCAMP Advocacy for Children is a passion. That’s my starting story and I have felt supported by SPAN from the first day that I walked into that role, and I’ve been supported ever since.

What does that support look like for me? I would say first and foremost, helping us to understand what our responsibilities and expectations are as Community Parent Resource Centers (CPRC), under the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP). SPAN takes every step that they can to help us fulfill these. The other thing that I really value from SPAN is that they have helped us to mature as an organization. So, we have been in existence 20 years. And for many of those years, we have been fortunate enough to have successfully competed for parent center awards using what we’ve learned from SPAN.

So, when I think about our organizational life cycle, I feel like SPAN has been right by our side every step of the way. In addition to the kinds of support I’ve already expressed, helping us as an organization to make sure that we’re addressing the multiple issues and aspects of running an organization.

My goal is to be able to adequately support AFCAMP across the different domains of need of our families and to have our organization be sustainable, not only in terms of finances, but also in terms of infrastructure, capacity and vision. SPAN has always helped our parent centers to improve, to bring their organizational functioning to the next level. So, helping us to understand not only the foundational pieces, but then how do you position yourself to grow? I think that’s critical, because the needs of our families have grown and continue to grow.

One other thing that I feel is especially important is that SPAN has done an excellent job creating a sense of camaraderie among all the parent centers in our region, such that if any center feels they need help, they can make a request to all our other parent centers. We’re like one great big family supporting each other! And that is a direct result of the work that SPAN has done to build that kind of relationship.

I can’t say enough about the support we have received from SPAN. It has been a tremendous resource to us as an organization, and I am not too proud to say it has been a tremendous resource to me as an executive director, as a leader, and as an individual.”
Expanding Visibility

With the hiring of Strategic Communications Director, Tom Franklin in July of 2020, and Website Content Manager, Melanie McLaurin in January of 2021, SPAN has benefited from the implementation of a new Strategic Communications Plan with a strong Social Media strategy as its keystone. The application of this plan has paid off with expanding visibility, as we have leveraged our social and digital assets at the right time.

Our Commitment to Accessibility

The Communications team is systematically updating our digital domains and communications to ensure accessibility to the sight impaired. Accessibility is a primary commitment for SPAN and one example is the team’s update of the RAISE Center website effective September 2021. RAISECenter.org was designed using the most current accessibility best practices and the American Foundation for the Blind was retained as a consultant on the project. The finished site is not only fully accessible, but fresh, clean, youthful and energetic – perfectly tailored to its Transition audience.

“In the summer of 2020, Vermont Family Network (VFN) was experiencing seismic changes. The Covid state of emergency had moved everyone to remote work, and in the midst of that, after 30 years, our Early Intervention program was being transferred to another contractor, cutting our staff family - and our funding - in half - during a global pandemic! All the while, many of us were trying to care for, educate, and entertain family members - young and old - with significant needs, and with no one at VFN being able to be in the same space at the same time to grieve and support one another. We were reeling, on so many levels.

Change is always difficult, but unexpected, unwanted change - that can be devastating.

We knew we needed to find opportunity in the chaos, and called SPAN. Diana Autin, who knew our organization well, sprang into action. She helped us form a committed and experienced team of nine Board and staff members. With great care and skill, as well as good humor, Diana worked with us to develop an inclusive process to address the organization’s most pressing concerns and to help us look ahead with creativity and optimism. Via Zoom technical assistance, she guided us to create an immediate 6-month plan, an intermediate plan for 2021, and finally, a plan for 2022-2025.

With SPAN’s support, VFN has been able to mindfully reduce our space needs and expenses, greatly enhance our partnerships, and solidify a plan for sustainable, diversified funding. Headed into 2022, we are making great progress, focused clearly on the goals and objectives we set: Capacity Building, Fostering Change, and Sustainability. Thanks to SPAN, we can say, VFN is “Vermont Strong” and ready to take our statewide family support and advocacy work to the next level!”

“We knew we needed to find opportunity in the chaos, and called SPAN”

With Special Thanks to Our Grantors

In 2022, we celebrate a milestone anniversary - 35 years since our founding. Over those years we have grown and expanded our programming and hopefully showcased our ability to deliver on the promises of each and every one of our grant applications.

The dedicated parent leaders at SPAN are so fortunate to enjoy many wonderful relationships with our grantors, in some cases spanning many years. We are tremendously grateful for the trust that has been placed in us over this history. We would therefore like to offer our sincere thanks to all of our grantor partners for this trust and investment in our mission. Without this trust and friendship, we would not be able to make the impact on our communities that we strive to make.
